Most of the candidates on the Democra sticket, express their intention to stick to Doug Lis, and if he is read out of the Democratic party, to follow him into the Republican ranks. In view of this confingency, if they are ancery in their professions, they will define the nominations they have roomyed, and leave the field to the regular Republican ticket, which will be of Dovotas intend to Become Republicans, they should not be running against the regular can-didates of the party. Minneroia Befere the Senate.

On Monday Devotas moved in the Senate for the admission of Minnesota into the Union. Half a dozen Southern Senatora opposed it, and several Republishes, with CEPTTENDEN, American, favored the motion. The debate TE TEN replied to him. The debate assumed an exciting character, and much feeling was of a portion of the debate in another column, from now forward until the Kansas question is settled, it will be war to the knife, and knife,

It is now stated that B. F. STROTHER, Esq., and not Col. Carrenter, will be the new Postmaster of Chicago, vice Parces removed. Col. CARPANTER has already an office which pays $8 per day, and no services to perform, viz: Disbursing Agent for the Government while the new Post Office is being built. CARPENTER will undertake to organize an Administration party in Chicago and Northern Illinois. In Egypt the friends of Buchanan are ready to make war on the followers of Devolas the moment the Douglasites in this city will bear down the Buchaneers; but the latter will gradually gain ground every day thereafter, until the Douglas faction are created out. Remember that the President holds the sword and the purse—the appointing and removing power, and that the machinery and name of the party will remain in his hands. Should the followers of Douglas take refuge in the Republican ranks, old Buck will be awfully beaten; but if they undertake, outside of a " healthy organ ization," to fight him, he will overthrow them

We hope the Times will not claim that our with sufficient sense, whatever may have been his opportunities. The Germans regard his the impression that they possessed no better timber out of which to choose a candidate. Were he elected, the city would be obliged to expense for attorney hire.

It extractes the affection of the lond applance, twice repeated. Attended the bucket the contemptible threats, which came exclusively from the Southern side, against the Union, in a style very similar to Mr. Charles Union, in a style very similar to Mr. Clay's; and it had the same effect. It brought down the house. These incidents are of no particuhe nouse. These incidents are of no particular value, but they show the weakness at the Seath of that sectional fanaticism which is always shricking against the Union. It excites disgust there as well as appreciantion and dislike among sensible men at the North. There is not much by ally to the Union at the South, but there is nortal fear of disunion.

The lack of morality has had as much to do with the d preined that this fact was about to be officially acknow edged when we read a paragraph which has recently been published in the journals of the West, stating that the Illinois Central kept a chaplain. The as-

Othern having stated at a meeting of ministers that he was in the employ of the Illinois Central Railroad Company, and had been very successful in his labors. But it does not appear that Mr. Osborn has been so employed as to exhaust his capacity of sacred nactulness. His mission is to preach to settlers on the lands of the Company which lie along the road, which are, as yet so sparsely peopled that they cannot afford to maintain the stated preaching of the years. The Company have, therefore, employed we trust with the eminent success which he ac-day night a clerk in the Chicago Post Office, named Henry Van Geosen, was arrested upon a charge of robbling the mails of valuable money letters. Van Geosen, was formerly a clerk in the Lexington, Ky. Post Office and a stream of the letters from the Postmaster at Lexington, Vice President Breckinridge, and other distinguished citizens of Kentucky. Van Geosen commenced his services in the office here in April last, and his whole conduct was to all outward appearances, perfectly exemplary.

Since July last, frequent complaints have been made to Postmaster, Price of the loss of valuable letters, and the Department directed Mr. Price to etters, and the Department directed Mr. Price to employ a competent man to ferret out the matter, Mr. Paul H. Dennis, a most excellent and skillful found to be in the western maling room. He pro-ceeded by inquiring, in such a way as not to arouse anaption, into the character, babits, and occupa-tion, when not on duty in the office, of each of the clerks in this room. By this means, he learned that Van Geesen (one of the most upright men, to all appearance, in the office) had some $500 of money learned; that he had recently taken a house in Buffalo street, which he had furnished richly at an expense of over $1,000, and that he was engaged to Buffalo street, which he had furnished richly m an expense of over $1,000, and that he was engaged to be married on the 15th of February (this month) to an estimately young lady in Louisville. Procuring from eastern Post Offices envelopes proper y stamped and registered, a decoy package or letter, containing $50, and addressed to a banker at Dixon, lilinois, was placed in the mail to be made up by Van Gesson for that office. In the meantime close and secret watch was kept of the suspected clerk.

After making up the package, he went out to the privy, returning in a short time. The package, before the mail left the office, was found to be missing.

XXXIth Congress-First Session,

The consideration of the Kansas question was The consideration of the Kansas question was resumed,

Mr. Douglas submitted a resolution, calling on the President for Information touching the number of votes cast in Kansas at the various elections, with a resolution for rejecting votes of the 4th of January; to embrace all particulars, together with correspondence on the subjec; and if all the information hereby desired is me in the possession of the President or Executive Departments, then the necessary orders and steps be taken to procure the same. He deemed this information material to the consideration of the question, and asked its immediate consideration.

Mr. Mason objected.
Mr. Boson objected.
Mr. Brown resumed his remarks from yester day, arguing generally in favor of the Lecompton Constitution, and calling up Douglas and Stuart in response to references made to their Mr. Wilson reviewed the frauds in the elections in Kansas, sharply replying to Mr. Brown, and denying the charge of sectionalism against WARMAGON, February 22, 1833.

Strangely as it may sound, after the indients and scenes of the last two months, there are doubt and speculation concerning the posi-tion of Stephen A. Douglas. The President tands like grim death, with the bour glass in his left hand and the scythe in the right. He holds the first up to the view of Douglas, to notify him that the sands of his probation are nearly run out, and with the other he threatens that in the same hour that he, Douglas, shall speak or vote against Lecompton, his dependents and followers in Illinois and elsewhere, shall, be moved down like the grass of the field. Mr. Price is allowed to keep his head upon his shoulders only by grace and favor. The first word which the Senstor utters against Lecompton in the Senate, will be the price of Price's head. Not a man will be spared who has touched the hem of ouglas' garments. He cannot remain a power within the Demoeratic party, without bowing to the Pontifex Maximus. The Roman Church pardoned every crime but heresy and schism. Those were the unpardonable sins. So the Democracy hold been plied with arguments, ridicule and After you have passed the American you have answer does he make. Nont-really none that can induce belief in his sincerity or remove contempt for his apostacy. Everybody here laught at the twaddle about the eleventh hour discovery that Lecompton violates popular sovereignty; that his henor—Douglas' honori—is singed by its infringement on the principle of the Nebraska bill. Why, Douglas is actually the author of the Lecompton Constitution. It is the legislature elected by Missouri Border Ruffmans; in 1855 and 1856. Those were Douglas' pets. He always acknowledged them as his own, supported them, was proud of them. They could not have lived without him. He shopted and approved all their acts without reservation, warmly, enture the state of the compton is his grand-child; Calbonn its foster father, is his best friend. Life-long intimates and confederates, they have never in anything else acted—but in concept.

Life-long intimates and confederates, they have never in anything else acted but in concert.

Mirder, robbery, arson and civil war have run riot in Kansas for three years and eight months. Not one word has be ever said against these crimes or the perpetrators of them. Is Lecompton any worse? Can it lead to anything worse? Suppose it does bring Calboun, or Cato, or Stringfellow, or Atchison into the Senste, will they not give the same votes that Douglas will? Has he not stood by them and they by him for four years, and can he now flinch with any respect for his own consistency from that path which he marked out for them and they for him? I know that Mr. Douglas admits his contempt for consistency, but there are extremes of self suitification to which no man can descend without taking leave of public life. His proposed course on the Lecompton Constitution appears to be an example of it.

These are almost the words in which an ardent friend (up to a reseat time) of Judge Douglas described his situation if he attempts to co-operate with the Republicans for defeating the natural and expected consummation of his own measures. The President talks in the same manner, but does not doubt that Douglas has designedly and forever left the Democratic party. He is willing, however, to suspend judgment on the schlamatic and his deluded followers until Douglas shall declare himself over the body of Lecompton itself. He will then, should the decision be adverse, make authorophing of the whole tribe, me, that is,

The Hardsheils and Seets had a "set to" in the treasury last week, in which the Softs tri-umphed and secured sit the unappropriated officers. They gave nothing in exchange but their principles, which they had no use for. They got the Marchal of the Northern District, of New York, whose place is worth twenty thousand collars per annum, and ult the of New York, whose place is worth twenty thousand dollars per ansum, and all the lesser places. By this judicious maneavre all the twelve Democratic votes of New York are secured for Lecompton. The last estimate passes the bill in the House of only two votes. The amount of revenue received during the last month was under two millions. About aree millions of dollars in treasury notes refer got out, public crediters taking the feetings they could get nothing else, rate total receipts of the fiscal year will be about $43,000,000, and the deficiency of revenue as compared with dissursements will be made good by rags. done in the dark; everything was done in the hight of day; because, with the conscionances that there was nothing illegal in our acts. Would we have dared to appeal to you as citizens of Mobile, to ask your sympathy and your support in violation of these laws which you yourselves had made? But we felt that we were acting in accordance with the law, and, therefore, we have ventured to take the course which we have taken. Until the month of September I understood and believed that the will of the government, in relation to the Nicaraguan policy, was unchanged; but during that month there were papers issued from the State Department which showed that, if a change had not already been wrought, there was some change going on which was not complete. There was some change in the Nicaraguan policy of the President and his advisers.

In the mouth of October, then, it is apparent that there has been a change in the Nicaraguan policy of the government. But in that month—and here is a fact, which for their saftes as well as yours, I wish feould pass over insilence; I wish for your sakes, above all, it could be passed in silence and never brought to your had an interview with a member of the Cabinet, and that Cabinet officer informed him that the President was opposed to the Nicaraguan enterprise. The Senate debate on the motion of Mr. Douglas, to give Minassota precedence of the Pacific Railroad bill, excited much feeling, and central mildness of the weather saved them, such a fortunate escape for an administration has been seldom experienced.

Clarkson, the bearer of the Lecompton, is here, so are cate and Lecompto. These infamous judges will never return to the Territory. Calhoun is expected in a few days. Whether the President will send in the spurious document to-day or wait for Calhoun's eariest is not yet known.

officers. As soon as we teached this soil, as soon as we became ency more free, wedeclared our intention to return to Nicaragus.

Soon after I landed in, New Orleans, I met two gentlemen who had returned from Washington. They told me of the interviews which they had had, both with the President and, his constitutional advisors, the members of the Cabinet. They told me of President Buchasan's admitting the full legality of the acts of myself and the parties who had langurated the new order of things in Nicaragus. They told me that President Buchanan assured them that I was as much President of Micaragus as he was President of the United States. They more than this, told me that it was not the intention of the government to assist the Americans in Nicaragus by mere words or by mere declarations; it was by something more substantial—by positive acts—that the cabinet had determined to show its good will towards the Americans who are laboring to secure a permanent government in Central America. They told me that it had been stated to the Cabinet that at sundry times the English government, by their officers at San Juan del Norte, had interfered with our proceedings in Nicaragus and they were told by the Cabinet that the theory of English officers. They were told that, so far as the Americans in Nicaragus are concerned, the United States government were resolved to assert the doctrine of Mource, and no English government interference should be tolerated. And that this might be provided for, American and power should be stationed there, in order not to permit such interference. But, further than this, not only was Great Britain to be kept off, but the United States were to render active assistance. In the spring of 1856, just after the Costa Rican declaration of war against Nicaragua, certain letters had been intercepted, from which it was found that the British government would farnish certain arms and munitions to the government of Nicaragua. I determined to go myself to Washington, to see whether this disposition w should receive me as an equal? But this he did. He received me by appointment; I saw him, and conversed with him in relation to the matters which had transpired in Central America; and after having made these statements. I was requested that they should be reduced to writing, as It was proper that they should be made public, in order that the poople of the United States should be made acquainted with the whole matter. It was with his own consent that the letter to him which I published in June last was written and published. It was, of course, not to be expected that I should, in detail, or even in any manner, state to the President of the United States what my fature plans or intentions were; and, therefore, it was not done in that interview. But within a day or two auterwards, when I was at the house of one ay down their arms, and the control of this government. You will proceed in this American vessel to San Juan del Norte, or to any other port in Nicaragua." But, in anticipation of difficulties, it was distinctly stated what I might expect from his government, and this not at my own instance. I did not so far forget myself as to ask what the conduct of his government would be, but he industriously stated there would be American vessels at San Juan del Norte, and there should be no more British interference. That it we went there with American flags flying over us, such interference would paturally be at the risk of a war with the United States. I ask you whether, under these circumstances, I had not a right to assume that the Government of the United States not only sanctioned but approved of the enterprise; nay, was anxious for it. Such, at least, was the conclusion at which I arrived. I could not infer that the Cabinet officer would hold such conversation with me unless with the knowledge and advice of the President; and it was with this conviction that, after having received what I considered most positive assurances, I came southward, and undertook to prepare the means for returning to Nicaragua. There never was an attempt made to conceal our motives or our conduct. There was nothing done in the dark; everything was done in the light of day; because, with the conscionsness that there was nothing illegal in our acts. Would we have dared, if we had violated the laws of the country, if we had violated the laws would we have dared to appeal to own laws, would we have dared to appeal to ing with passing balls.

WEAT THEY ARE FIGHTING FOR.

The Extraordinary (newspaper) says:

A gentleman of our acquaintance, who was moved by curfosity to speak to an officer at one of the disaffected posts, after listening for some time to his dissertation upon the wrongs the country was suffering, &c., asked him abrabity:

she country was suffering, &c., asked him abrobity:

"Well, my friend, what are yeu doing here:"

"Sir," mythe, "we are fighting for—" and here the poor fellow broke down. He had not been informed by his leaders what object exactly was in view. But looking wisely at our friend, he said;

"We are fighting for—we are fighting—for Popinion." (the opinion.)

The same paper says:

The most melancholy sight, to our minds, is the deplorable apithy that pervades the great bulk of the native Mexican inhabitants of this capital. During the heat of the firing on Friday, the saloons, cares, the protected balconies and the shady sides of the streets, were crowded with well drossed and gentlemanly looking men, who whiffed their cigarets and dealt in such topics of conversation as were most interest, except what might be prompted by fear or curiosity. The number of gented looking people who appeared to take a real interest in what was transpiring was really very small.

been entertained. We give the following it from the correspondence of the New Orleas papers:

Orr or Mexico, Sunday, Jan. II, 1828.

The capital is harricaded and in arms; the blood of citizens has already been shed thereis and a general civil war seems now to impensive the common of the common of the common of the city was thrown into commotion the appearance of two distinct programme. All at once, on the evening of Sunday the 10th, the city was thrown into commotion the appearance of two distinct programme proclaiming resistance to the new order things, and calling the people to arms. Once these was in the name of the extreme radical of the first party, of which the Vice Predent, Jaarez, now out of prison, is chief; to other is that of the Santa Anna party, 20° theaded, singular enough, by Gen. Zuleaga, the very same man who imangerated the result of the shade of the shops are coup d'side in the name of Comonfort.

The Radicals adopted a guerrilla sort of war fare, with a free runge of the streets, while the Government party field the balance of the shops closed, and martial law a once proclaimed.

Proclamations were issued—intempera appeale—designed to fam the flames of popularity.

PIGHTING AT THE CAPITAL

Tennessee, confirms the worst fears that peals—designed to fan the flames of populary.

Fighting Commences in Earner.

In this way things stood till about noon Friday, the 16th of January, when the Go erument troops moved forward to the vicinit of the convent of San Augustin. Fire was once opened upon them, and returned with will. This was serious work, and the alar now became general throughout the city, an the fighting general. Two cannon nots welfied from the Frofesa up through the Called Expiritus Santo and Calle Puents de: Espiritus Santo. From the tower of the Profesa, also a few shots were directed upon San Augustin and muskery were to be heard in every direction, from the ditadel, the custom house, Sa Domlingo, and in fact, pretty much all over the city. The firing lasted until dark, and forty eight lives were reported to be lost in the vicinity of San Augustin alone.

THE SECOND DAY'S FIGHTING.

The fighting was not renewed the next day, Saturday, the 16th, till about 1 P. M. It commenced in the region of Santa Domisgo, and the Custom House. From here the settlen exand soon musketry and small field pieces blazing away from the tower of Profess blazing away from the lower of Profess a San Augustin.

During the night, barricades were erect in front of the bull-ring, and heavy came commanded the Passeo Sunday marning.

The flags of different nations were waying rom the residences of their representa luring the firing of Fridey and Saturday. TWENTY-FOUR HOURS TRUCE PROCLAIMED

A truce of 24 hours has been preclaimed. The armistice is to extend until 7 P. M. to do One of the conditions is that no new worldstall be made by either party during the a mistice. This, of course, is no more than mistice. This, of course, is no more than a stroke of Mexican diplomacy, for it is well known to me that, at the hour I write (14 o'cft A.M.) both parties are at work building barricades, endeavoring to bribe the soldiers of the opposite party, &c.

The opposing parties had a conference today, through their leaders. The Comonfort (now Puro) party, proposed to the pronunciados that their lives should be spared if they would by down their arms, and the leaders agree to go into exile.

There can be no question but Mexico is now rapidly reaching a point when foreign nations will be forced to step in and protect the interests of their subjects. It is a melancholy confession to make; but if foreign influence does not soon show itself here, in some shape, the condition will be awful.

know where the Senator from Illinois (Dou, las) would stand on that question. If Kans should present herself for admission in the manner which was expected, he did not kno bemocratic side would stand. He was not prepared to take up the bill for consideration. When the Senate shall have had further time to take more extended views of all the circumstances and probable exigencies that may surround the admission of new States at this session, it might be found desirable that such questions should be considered separately; but he was not disposed to take up one of these measures until the other was matured, at least. The Lecompton Constitution is now in Washington, and when it shall be presented to the Senate, it will probably be accompanied by authentic information touching all matters connected with it. He hoped it would not meet with so much opposition as had been anticipated, but thought that not a single step sheald be taken in reference to the admission of new States, until we are able to see exactly where we stand. There might be circumstances when hey states the hould be taken together.

Mr. Wilson (Mass.) said that he and the peotie he represented, were favorable to any justies he represented. ple he represented, were favorable to any ju and practicable measure for the construction a Pacific Railrond; but he felt constrained a Pacific Railroad; but he felt constrained to advocate the postponement of this measure in order to consider the question of the admission of Minnesota into the Union. An act was passed last session authorizing the people to form a Constitution and State Government for the purpose, and they have complied with its provisions. There were irregularities, but all parties agreed to the Constitution which was submitted, and which received 30,000 votes against 500. The voice of Minnesota on this subject approached unanimity. All irregularities as to form ought to yield to the substance. He hoped that the Scuate and the country would notice the position taken by the Senator from Virginia, who was opposed to giving consideration to this measure because he sapposed that the Senators upon the Republican side of the attention of Rotel Keepers, Propriators of Esse, Caterers for Clubs, Mess-rooms, and Private Pia commended to a trial of Lea & Paparas' fac or did not want to act on the qu admission of a State, under the Constitution authorized by Congress, because he wants to see what the Republicans intend doing when the proposition for the admission of Kanans, under the Lecompton Constitution, shall be presented. He would say to the Senator form Virginia, now, in order that they can be no misunderstanding, that they would oppose the consummation of the Lecompton swindle by all the means they could supply under the rules of this body, and he presumed that this will be the case in the other House. Neither he nor the country could see why a Territory which has formed a Constitution in accordance with the organic act—a Constitution which has received the sanction or nearly the entire people of the Territory, and under which was sleeted the Legislature, which has been in session for nearly live months, and during that time been passing laws—should be kept out of the Union to await examination of all facts connected with Kansas, There was no such connection between the two subjects as to justify the proceeding. Times was a need for immediate action to bring Minnesota into the Union.

Mr. Hale, of New Hampshire, said there had A stock always in store. Also erders received for dis-abigumous from Sagland GOHN DUNGAN A SONS, 597-19 Soile Agents in the United States for Lon. Spencer, the author of the "Spencer System of Pennasashup," has charge of the Writing Days ruption of the Union as the one entertained by the Senator from Virginia, viz: to make the admission of Kansas, under the Lecompto Constitution, a touchstone by which fidelify it to be tried, and without which no other Statcamevay come, into the Union. If this was to be the condition, it would be a long time before the States would be increased beyond their present number. It was contrary to the whole genius of our institutions for one or any set of States to say that the admission of Kansas we genius of our institutions for one or any set States to say that the admission of Kansas under the Lecompton Constitution should be ma a sine qual non for the admission of other Stations the Constitution. He did not know whether the measure would pass both Houses or not, but thought it would be more likely to go through if the five regiment bill be passed, for there was so much patronage connected with it as to taint the atmostiphers, and have an insensible influence upon voices in favor of it. [Laughter.] Senators on his side had been feetured for speaking about disunion, but whenever Senators on the other side spoke on that anticet, nebody lectured them. Mr. Brown, (Miss.) alluded to Mr. Doughas's alleged inconsistencies, and said that if by this bot haste to get Minnesota into the Union, the Senator from Hillinois wanted to secure the votes of two Senators from Minnesota against the Leccarpton Constitution, he hoped that the admission of Minnesota would be resisted to the blister end.

Mr. Douglas said that Mr. Brown was mistaken in supposing that he regarded an enabling set fadisponantle in the admission of new States. In defining his position, he remarked DREPARED BY DR. S. DEBATH IN THE SENATE ...

Mr. Douglas (III.) moved that the Sema lake up the bill previding for the admission Minnesota into the Union, saying that he w in favor of the Pacific Rallroad bill, b

All. Gwin (Cal.) was anxious to consider, the Pacific Railroad bill. The Senators from Minnesota, he was inclined to think, could not get their seats before the passage of that measure.

Mr. Crittendea (Ky.) thought that respect for Minnesota and the two gentlemen who have been selected to represent her on this floor, made it a primary duty of the Senate to consider the subject. They had a right to take their seats and be heard on the Pacific Railroad hill.

Mr. Seward (N. Y.) was in favor of the Pacific Railroad bill, but should be obliged to vote against taking it up at this time. He believed with Mr. Cristenden, that the Minnesots case presented a question of privilege, and this those two Senators ought to be allowed to take their sents at the earliest day possible. That would give an ingressed vote for the Pacific

Mr. Green (Mo.) did not want a collision between the two measures. He thought the reason assigned by Mr. Fitzpatrick sufficient for postponing the Minnesons bill.

Mr. Douglas fell, it to be his duty to press the motion, and demanded the yeas and nays.

Mr. Mason (Va.) said that events have occurred and others are at hand which might enlighten the American mind upon the subject of the admission of new States into the Union. These propositions had been only a few days before the Senate, and had not been thoroughly examined. He was not aware that, when the
